Dwelling Place

| Kathleen Antony, AB

He didn't hear his fall or see where he landed; the shingle clutched loosely in his hand
not yet wet. The rain started in the ambulance
and washed over
antique heirlooms in the attic,
his brain bathed in blood.
Valuables flooded out: legs caught on windows, words washed from pages giving way to what did not belong. As the scanner swirled above, all became still.

Neurology[®]

Dwelling Place
Kathleen Antony
Neurology 2006;66;953
DOI 10.1212/01.wnl.0000205230.87915.5b

This information is current as of March 27, 2006

Updated Information & Services including high resolution figures, can be found at:

<http://n.neurology.org/content/66/6/953.full>

Permissions & Licensing

Information about reproducing this article in parts (figures, tables) or in its entirety can be found online at:
http://www.neurology.org/about/about_the_journal#permissions

Reprints

Information about ordering reprints can be found online:
<http://n.neurology.org/subscribers/advertise>

Neurology® is the official journal of the American Academy of Neurology. Published continuously since 1951, it is now a weekly with 48 issues per year. Copyright . All rights reserved. Print ISSN: 0028-3878. Online ISSN: 1526-632X.