Occurrence of amyotrophic lateral sclerosis among Gulf War veterans

In the article "Occurrence of amyotrophic lateral sclerosis among Gulf War veterans" (Neurology 2003;61:742-749) by R.D. Horner et al., the abstract conclusion sentence on page 742 is incorrect. It should read: "Military personnel who were deployed to the Gulf Region during the Gulf War period experienced a greater post-war risk of ALS than those who were not deployed to the Gulf."

The Journal regrets the error.
