Dear Authors,

We are excited to announce that Neurology® Neuroimmunology & Neuroinflammation (N2) has received our Impact Factor (7.353). We recognize that publishing in a journal with an Impact Factor is important to many authors, and we are excited to have the ability to receive and publish your contributions!

We publish rigorously peer-reviewed open access reports of original research and in-depth reviews of topics in neuroimmunology & neuroinflammation. Clinical trials, instructive case reports, and small case series are also featured. Below are some highlights of what we have published over the past 5 years.
